

Get Hooked on Books!

Telling stories is a wonderful way to increase your child's vocabulary. As you tell a story, use new words and explain what they mean, or talk about something your child hasn't experienced and explain what happens.

Fun with Words

Here are some storytelling tips. Remember that almost any story you tell your child will be of interest - just because you are the one telling it!

- For infants and toddlers, start with silly sounds. Children delight in mimicking the sounds you make. This is just the beginning of having conversations with your child.
- Tell your child how you felt the day he or she was born.
- Tell a story about your childhood. Children have a great interest in hearing about experiences their parents had at a similar age.
- Use simple props such as a puppet or a stuffed animal to tell a story. Use silly voices for different characters and ask your child to join in.
- Use family photos to tell different stories.
- Encourage your child to tell a story about a favorite event or act it out.

Information from Every Child Ready to Read, a project of the Association for Library Service to Children and the Public Library Association, divisions of the American Library Association.

OUR FAVORITE BOOKS WERE:

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____

Hook a Reader!

Books 801 through 900!

For each book that is read to your child by anyone, color or check off one fish.

Congratulations! You have read 900 books!!! Return this page to the Woodward Memorial Library for a sticker and your next reading log.